INQUEST TODAY FOR CHINESE BOY

Lou Kai Foy Dies From Injuries Received When Bicycle and E.
O. White's Auto Clash.

This evening at 7 o'clock, an quest will be held over the remain of Lau Kai Foy, the Chinese boy wh died last night at the Queen's Ho pital as a result of injuries receive in a collision between a bicycle of which he was being carried by hi father, and an auto driven by E. C White. The accident occurred of River and Beretania streets at o'clock yesterday afternoon. Th boy was being carried on the handl burs of the machine by the father.

Mr. White says in regard to the a cident:

"I was coming along the mauka side of Beretania and was just turning into River street. At that moment, a young Chinaman came up River street riding a bicycle and carrying a sever or eight year old boy on the handle bars. I was going slow at the time I tooted my horn, and then for the first time the rider appeared to notice my approach. His face was hidden before that by the boy in front of him and he had to peer around him to seeme. He started to wobble this way and that, undecided just which was to turn. Finally he decided to swim over to the left near the end of the to turn. Finally he decided to swin over to the left near the end of the bridge. I turned the other way, an was coming to a standstill. The because the boy pitching headlong into the street. The child was badly hurt, had the boy attended to by Dr. Wate, house and "John Son" to the hospital notified the police department of the accident."

LANE WEBSTER'S DEATH

Details of the death of Lane Weber were learned yesterday by the Mikahala, when she came in from Maui. Some time after 4 o'clock Fri-Maui. Some time after 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, while a party of boyn was out hunting and was descending a steep and slippery trail with young Webster in the lead, a gun being carried by Atherton Gilman was dropped, and discharged. Trembling hands stanched the flow of blood from the wound, which was in the calf of his right leg, and putting him on a horse,
the other boys took him a mile and a half to the J. F. Brown ranch house, whence the expedition had started.

half to the J. F. Brown ranch house, whence the expedition had started.
Crazed with grief at the accident, Atherton Gilman rode nine miles for the doctor at a dead gallop, but the physician arrived only in time to see young Webster gasp out his last, just about nine o'clock in the evening. The doctor stated that the wound, which was in the leg, was mortal, and more timely assistance could have done timely assistance could have done nothing.

The party of boys was out for a hunt. Those in the crowd were: Lane Webster, Atherton Gilman, Arthur Gilman, Lionel Steiner, and young

The funeral was held yesterday af-ternoon at 3 o'clock from Central Union Church.

United States District Attorney Breckons had a sad case come before is notice this morning, when a woman whose name is not given, came before him and asked that some action be taken against the man with whom she has been living for the last twelve years. It seems that the couple were never married, but two children have-been born. A week or so ago the man deserted the woman, and has been living with another woman, and durng the last week he gave her but one dollar to keep herself and the little children. She is physically unable to earn her own living, and she therefore asks that he be made to furnish her with the necessities of life.
